ACCOUNTING MAJOR AREA MINOR – Effective FALL 2017

Deciding on a major area minor is an important step in improving your success in the job market. It can assist you in demonstrating that you have some expertise and/or passion in one specific accounting-related area, and may be helpful when listed on your resume and on job applications. Please review the following business & accounting related minors, and then meet with your Student Services Advisor, Dean or Chairperson to insure that the needed major and/or Open Electives are available, and to then complete the processing of this declaration form.

SUMMARY OF BBA ACCOUNTING MINORS

- Finance The study of Finance addresses the ways in which individuals and business allocate and use economic resources over time. Finance is used by individuals, governments, businesses, schools and not-for-profit organizations. Careers in commercial banking, real estate, financial planning are examples of career paths one can take after studying finance.

- Forensic Accounting The forensic accounting field detects accounting financial fraud, embezzlement, bribery and corruption schemes. The primary career of a Forensic Accountant is with a law enforcement agency, insurance companies or major corporations.

- Business Law The study of law enables you to understand the U.S. legal system and the various facets of our community that it affects. Whether a successful entrepreneur or criminal justice practitioner, one must understand the legal system and how it impacts economic success and security. Careers related to the law include criminal or corporate attorney, legal assistant, court administrators, various federal assignments, judges, sole practitioner, and compliance officer.
